Notes: [Minor/Double major course transference process] is used to determine whether the courses in the main department are recognized as required credits in the additional department. Please follow the instructions below

- 1. Minor Department: Take the course syllabus and transcript to the additional department to apply for a denial. The number of credits that have been denied will be made up by taking courses designated by the additional department to make up the credits.
- 2. Double major: Take the course syllabus and transcript to the additional department for rejection, but must still meet the requirement of taking at least 40 credits of courses offered by the additional department.
- 3. The transference credit is not a waiver credit and cannot be entered into the system for maintenance. Please keep the student's credit form for reference in future qualification reviews upon graduation.
- 4. The transference credit processing process: Student → "Department of Additional Studies" or "Relevant Unit" review → Contractors of each department of the Curriculum and Registration Division.
